BEETHOVENS NINE SYMPHONIES

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 40 pages. Original publisher: Washington, D. C. : U. S. General Accounting Office, 2003 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)54068436 Subject: Federal aid to research -- Moral and ethical aspects -- United States. Excerpt: . . . While Education, NIH, and NSF do not post research results on their Web sites, they post a project abstract written at the time of award stating how the research will be conducted and what researchers hope to accomplish. In November 2002, the Education Sciences Reform Act of 2002 ( Pub. L. No. 107-279 ) established the Institute of Education Sciences and directed it to widely disseminate the findings and results of scientifically valid research in education. An Education official told us that after the members of the Institutes National Board of Educational Sciences have been appointed and confirmed, Education will consider how best to fulfill this requirement, particularly for the results of Institute-funded research that have not been peer reviewed. The official noted that the Institutes National Center for Education Evaluation currently disseminates the results of research performed under contract either through research publications or through its Web site after the results have been peer reviewed. In addition to using their own Web sites, several agencies participate in collaborative Web-based efforts to share information, including research results. For example, Energys Office of Scientific and Technical Information maintains Federal R and D Project Summaries, a Web-based portal to summary and award information for Energy, NIH, and NSF research grants. The office also maintains GrayLIT Network, a portal to full-text reports located on the Energy, Defense, EPA, and NASA information systems. In addition, an interagency working group from 11 major science agencies recently initiated the science. gov Web site, which provides a gateway to federal research...
